COMPANY BACKGROUND: Endolumik, Inc. is a medical equipment start-up that has created an illuminated gastric sleeve (bougie) that allows for better visibility for sleeve gastrectomies. Their bougies have received FDA approval and were also given safety awards from the FDA for making a product expected to improve surgical outcomes.

The Endolumik team wants to expand its commercialization efforts for its gastric sleeve. They are also looking at developing another unique product expected to drastically lower mortality rates for colorectal surgeries.
